Dear Sir

We have a package of bullion here that has been in the vault for some time. There is no instructions with the package and no name of place on the box only and office blank from New York so it has been held for instructions. It may be the package named in this letter if they would write and identify in some way. They could describe the package and about the amount so we could then a check or an

Dear Sir

We have a package of minor silver there that has been in the vault for some time. There is no instructions with the package and no name of place on the box only and office blank form to New York so it has been held for instructions. It may be the package named in this letter if they would write and identify in some way. They could describe the package and about the amount so we could then check around.

Very Respectfully,
H.S. Cartman
